6 UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
WESTERN DISTRICT OF WASHINGTON
AT SEATTLE

7 WESLEY PATTON,

8 Plaintiff,

9 v.

10 NANCY A. BERRYHILL, Acting
11 Commissioner of Social Security,

12 Defendant.

CASE NO. C16-1095-BAT

ORDER DENYING DEFENDANT’S MOTION TO ALTER THE

14 Defendant moves under Federal Rule 59(e) to alter the judgment, contending the Court
15 committed clear error of law by misapplying the substantial evidence standard, “holding the ALJ
16 to higher standard than required under Ninth Circuit law,” and addressing issues that were 17 assertions of error not specifically raised by plaintiff. Dkt. 19 at 1-2. None of these arguments
18 hold water. The ALJ failed to address DAA properly, and failed to make required DAA findings
19 as required by law. Defendant’s arguments to the contrary rely upon arguments based on her 20 interpretation of the record, not what the ALJ found. The arguments thus incorrectly sidestep the 21 ALJ’s failure to adequately address DAA findings. The Commissioner implicitly recognizes this 22 by arguing the ALJ’s failure is harmless. Dkt. 19 at 5. This argument improperly renders the 23 ALJ’s reasoning superfluous and bars meaningful review. See Treichler v. Comm’r of Social Sec. Admin., 775 F.3d 1090 1102 (9th Cir. 2014). Defendant also argues the Court reversed the

1 ALJ's decision addressing DAA issues not raised by plaintiff. Plaintiff argued in his opening
2 brief the DAA analysis is "legally improper"; defendant was therefore not unfairly blindsided by 3 the issue. Dkt. 11 at 5. Additionally the Court must assess the record as a whole to determine
4 whether the ALJ's decision is supported by substantial evidence and free of legal error. That is
5 what the Court did in reviewing the findings the ALJ is required to make regarding DAA at each
6 of the five mandatory disability determination steps. And finally the Commissioner argues the 7 ALJ properly accounted for DAA in assessing plaintiff's RFC. The argument it is not based 8 upon what the ALJ found, but upon defendant's post-hoc claims. The Court accordingly
9 DENIES the Commissioner's motion to alter the judgment. Dkt. 19.
